The user will be able to access two main kinds of support:

– Information resources: this valuable and practical information about caregiving is structured around 4 main sections entitled 'Caring for older people', 'Your own needs', 'Support by the state', 'Getting help'. These areas have been specifically designed and developed to answer your needs and preferences as well as any queries and concerns. This is the place where you can look for answers to your questions about care, carers and caring and more!

– Interactive Services: For some countries, a set of interactive services is also available to provide a virtual meeting place for carers. In this section, you can find a dedicated social network and a forum, as well as private messages, chat and video chat rooms. These tools all have the goal of enabling carers to easily: get support from each other as well as from dedicated staff from involved non-profit organisations or research and development organisations in their country; get in touch with other people who understand how you feel and what you're dealing with; read, publish and comment on posts by your fellow carers; send your questions to people available for talking and advising you about your situation, as they recognise and value your caring role.

The Life Line, through the "Paging" service, enables seniors to communicate directly with the Call Management Coordination Centre, by simply pressing a portable red button, 24 hours a day and all days of the year, without having to move from their seat or dial any number.
